Dear Sir,

I must apologize for my difficult handwriting. I shall keep this in mind hereafter, and try to be plain. What I specially wanted was the reference to your own Bibl: Account, where I distinctly remember you give a quotation from an old Poet in which he asks then and than not to be confounded. I cannot find it, & you do not include it in your Index. Can you also tell me where I can see Sabine's Old World's Complaint &c.?

Fatefully Yours
A. B. GROSART.
